

Highland Arts Council's Announces

Scarecrow Search ArtWalk 2020 – October 10

Autumn is always a time of change, leaves transforming into glimmering shades of orange and red and yellow as the temperatures take on the crisp feel, telling us that the seasons are evolving. The year 2020 has been many things, but mostly it has been a time of change as humanity collectively navigates uncharted territories again and again.

The Highland Arts Council (HAC), too, had to adapt and change in light of the current situation, and for us that change meant canceling Art in the Park, our major annual event. The cancellation of one event led to the adoption of a new one: Scarecrow Search ArtWalk. The Scarecrow Search ArtWalk will lead your team on an adventure through our community, following the Highland's ArtWalk which is available all year. On October 10, the Scarecrow Search ArtWalk will guide you to explore our community and discover the beautiful artwork that is displayed around Highland.

The object of the game is to visit each of the pieces of artwork on the list identified by a scarecrow and snap a picture of your group with the artwork. After visiting the artwork, you will Instant Message (IM) all of your photos to Highland Arts Council on Facebook. The committee will assign points for each photo to determine the winners of two prizes. The team with the most likes on Facebook will receive the People's Choice Prize. So, ask your friends to like your post of photos and Highland Arts Council's page.
